

This book is dedicated to my wife Marjorie; my children Charles and Debra; and my grandchildren; Jacob, Ben, Kaitlyn, and Ashley. I pray that our country in the future will be a place where one can still fully enjoy life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness as envisioned by the Declaration of Independence, and the contract put in place by our country's Founders and Framers to protect our unalienable rights granted to us by our Creator and to fulfill that vision, the U.S. Constitution.
