(Jun. 18, 2023) — In the continuing saga of Brandon's plan to decimate what is left of the Republic, his slimy and repulsive inner sexual predator surfaces. Again. Ask Tara Reade and now, Eva Longoria. At the White House, no less, and in front of his (for the time being) spouse, “Dr.” Jill, captured in photos (uncertain if video exists), Brandon sexually assaulted Democrat actress Eva Longoria. Doubt it? Check this out: (WARNING: explicit images).

The criminal code of the District of Columbia defines the act of “sexual contact” as “the touching... either directly or through the clothing, of the... breast... of any person with an intent to... arouse or gratify the sexual desire of any person.” Look again at the images and ask yourself: does it look like those events fit that definition?

The D.C. criminal code (§ 22-3006) also provides that “whoever engages in ... sexual contact with another person and who should have knowledge or reason to know that the act was committed without that other person’s permission, shall be imprisoned for not more than 180 days and, in addition, may be fined in an amount not more than [$1,000.00].” Look again: does it appear that Longoria is batting her eyelashes at him, subtly giving Brandon permission to “have his way” with her?

Plainly, the Goof could afford the $1,000.00 fine..., heck, he’d probably happily pay it in exchange for the grope he executed on Longoria’s right upper torso. But as for the “shall be imprisoned...” part of the law, rest assured, faithful P&E readers, that mandatory “shall” language has no meaning whatsoever when applied to Brandon. Much like the de facto dictator he is, if he can get away with felonies, getting away with sexual misdemeanors in front of his wife at the White House is for him a walk in the park..., unless he again stumbles and this time cracks his head wide open. Fear not, America..., nothing will spill out.

Derek Hunter at Townhall.com captures these events in a post entitled: “Democrats are Horrible People.” Most of what Mr. Hunter relates rings true, particularly as to Democrats who have been “inserted” into office. The term “elected” is avoided to avert any suggestion that some of them may have been victorious as a result of a fraud-free vote of the electorate. To most of those people, including Brandon, the only principle to which they adhere is expediency. Machiavelli would approve.

As for those who actually do “elect” them into office – also known as “registered Democrats” – they are directly responsible for the chaos that now passes for “governance” in the nation. Thus, as suggested here, reparations to the Republic in the form of a tax surcharge on registered Democrats would not be altogether unjustified. While it would not come close to compensating the country for the aggregated direct and indirect damages inflicted by Democrat regimes and politicians, it would at least serve as a small measure of accountability, a foreign concept generally unknown to Democrats.

As for Brandon’s grope of Longoria, as Mr. Hunter points out, the Goof’s apparatchik media clowns will not cover the incident and everyone, including Dr. Jill, will just look the other way and wait for the kerfuffle to pass. But let us see what Longoria does. In her mind, it may come down to which principle she values more, her political allegiance to the Democrats or her self-respect and dignity as an XX-chromosomal woman.

Whether Longoria does anything is a separate battle between her dignity and her conscience. However, whatever the outcome of that tussle, there should be little remaining question regarding the depth and even the existence of Brandon’s honor and character as an XY-chromosomal goof.
