

Even Benedict Arnold Agreed

“PAR FOR THE COURSE”

by Joseph DeMaio, ©2018

Benedict Arnold turned on the Continental Army to assist the British, eventually collecting a Crown pension

(Oct. 4, 2018) — As your humble servant has on many prior occasions pointed out – and most recently, here and here, the Democrat Party, led by the hydra-headed creature consisting of elements taken from Chuck Schumer, Dianne Feinstein, Kamala Harris, Mazie Hirono, Nancy Pelosi, etc. etc. – again confirms why it has forfeited any claim of right or ability to govern a free people in our constitutional republic.

And when I say “once again,” we now see that U.S. Capitol Police have arrested one Jackson Costko – a Democrat congressional staffer working in the U.S. Capitol in Washington, D.C. – for “doxxing” several U.S. Republican senators, posting the home addresses and phone numbers of Senators Mitch McConnell, Lindsey Graham, Mike Lee and Orrin Hatch to the Internet.

Rest assured, that action was not intended to make their lives easier. Instead, it was made to intimidate them by exposing their personal and private information to the public so that the radical leftists who now populate the Democrat Party (forgive the redundancy) could more easily heed the advice of Congresswoman Maxine (“Mad Max”) Waters. Stupid move, Costko, but par for the course.

Mr. Costko now faces felony charges including making public restricted personal information, witness tampering, threats in interstate communication, unauthorized access of a government computer, identity theft, second-degree burglary and unlawful entry, with additional charges potentially to be added.

Memo to the Capitol Police: you might want to consider adding charges under 18 U.S.C. § 2383 (fomenting rebellion or insurrection) and 18 U.S.C. § 2384 (seditious conspiracy).

And while Chuck Schumer distanced himself from Waters' remarks advocating the harassment of Trump administration officials, going through the charade of claiming that "political opponents should not be harassed," the actions of Mr. Costko demonstrate – once more – just how far Democrats will go to do to sitting U.S. Senators precisely what Mad Maxine advocates be done to Trump administration officials: harass them at every opportunity.

The Democrats have truly lost their collective minds when it comes to accepting the results of the 2016 election and recognizing that which their Fabled Leader, Barack Hussein Obama, Jr., so frequently lectures to the masses: "Elections have consequences." Democrats cannot (or will not) come to grips with the reality that they lost in 2016 and the GOP won.

Nor can they come to grips with the potential that – perish the thought – a jurist who prefers reading the words of the Constitution as they are actually written, rather than as manipulated by the liberal mind to mean, as Humpty Dumpty observed, "whatever I choose it to mean, no more, no less," may get confirmed to the Supreme Court. This goes a long way to explaining why they are beyond apoplectic over the looming reality that a constitutional originalist may actually be seated on the Supreme Court, their cowardly, treacherous and now, felonious efforts aside.

Memo to the electorate: if you want to reward this species of behavior and see a lot more of it in the future, vote for Democrats in November. If, on the other hand, you want to bring back some stability and reason to the political process and as an added bonus do the Nation a favor, vote GOP in November. I channeled the Founders last night... and they agree. Even Benedict Arnold – after wringing his hands for hours – agreed.