

Impeachment or Removal...What Difference Does it Make?

A “SUCCESSFUL OUTCOME”

Is the Obama House of Cards giving way?

(Jun. 18, 2014) — So, now, nearly two years after four Americans, including the U.S. ambassador to Libya, were murdered after being abandoned by the regime in power – no, not the Libyans... the one reigning from 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue –, U.S. Special Forces have captured Monsieur Ahmed abu Khatallah. Abu Khatallah is the suspected ringleader of the terrorists who carried out the destruction of the U.S. compound at Benghazi on September 11, 2012.

This terrorist was not, as Hillary Clinton would no doubt prefer to describe him, merely a highly agitated “film critic” upset over “that vile video.” Rather, he was and presumably remains an Islamist jihadist dedicated to the destruction of the United States and the beheading of infidels, wherever they may be found. For him, Benghazi was merely a preview of coming attractions.

Fast forward to the reaction of the State Department to the capture of Abu Khatallah and the responses given yesterday by agency flack Jen Psaki to some pointed questions posed to her by Fox News reporter James Rosen.

Unbelievable. With each passing day, the dissembling of the regime and its agents grows more blatant. A blind Martian, let alone the American electorate in November, could see the depth of the perfidy emanating from this administration. Memo to the aforesaid November electorate: if you are at the bottom of a hole and want to get out.... stop digging the hole deeper.

Adding insult to injury – the regime long ago having elevated that condition to an art form – Psaki’s final comment (at 2:14 in the video clip: “where we are today is that the outcome was successful...”) echoes Hillary Clinton’s disgraceful question in the Benghazi hearings: “At this point in time, what difference does it make?” Both Clinton’s and Psaki’s comments were coughed up in an anemic and juvenile attempt to deflect attention from the fact that the pointed questions being posed to them were being evaded and that no responsive answers would be forthcoming.

These faux patriots cannot seem to understand that the vast majority of Americans, even including many who were once but are no longer bamboozled by the Pied Piper of Chicago, now relocated to Washington, D.C., are fed up with the lies and defalcations. And with the continuing exposure of the rampant and felonious conduct of the IRS, compounded by the regime’s “my-dog-Bo-ate-the-Lerner-emails;” the dangerous swap of one likely deserter for five Gitmo jihadists; and the utterly feckless response to the invasion by tens of thousands of illegal aliens, the collapse of the regime’s house of cards seems to be fast approaching.

So, once again it must be asked: what will it take to finally do something to either impeach or otherwise remove the leader and his apparatchiks from office?

Stated otherwise, in Hillaryspeak: “Impeachment or removal... what difference does it make?” because, in Psakispeak, the important thing is that “the outcome be successful.”
