

Of the Virginia Bloodbath and Rabid Wildcats

by Joseph DeMaio, ©2021

Photo: Pixabay, License

(Nov. 3, 2021) — Well, well, well... it would appear that the contagion festering in the District of Columbia might be on the way to being eradicated. No, not the Wuhan virus: the disease at issue is control of the government by Democrats. The retaking by the GOP of Virginia’s governorship, lieutenant governorship and office of the attorney general is, indeed, a bloodbath for the Democrats. And not just in the “Old Dominion” commonwealth.

The GOP sweep of the offices controlling the direction of Virginia – birthplace and resting place of the one of the Republic’s greatest founders, George Washington – also sends a clear signal to the rest of the nation. The signal is that this may be the beginning of the end for the malicious and malevolent attack on the nation and its people from within, orchestrated and facilitated by the Goofball Regime and its marionette-masters operating the strings from behind the black curtain of a mainstream media propaganda machine.

Talk about “domestic terrorism,” that which the Democrat leaders in Congress and the Goofball at 1600 are doing to the nation – facilitated and excused by a complicit media – makes the January 6th event at the Capitol seem tame.

Speaker Pelosi Hosts Weekly Press Conference

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QzcroTAh3mE>

Against the backdrop of the GOP victory in Virginia, your humble servant would once again posit that now – more than ever – the need for a few patriotic Democrat House members to switch parties to Independent or GOP in order to immediately re-take the House and oust Speaker Nancy Pelosi from her strangulation hold on that body is mandatory. Oh, and it would not hurt if a couple of Senators did the same thing to secure the Senate for the GOP. Now.

The reason for this lies in the brutal and undeniable fact that the Democrat leadership in the Congress, both in the House and the Senate, while largely blind to principle, can clearly see the handwriting on the political wall. Specifically, as the 2022 mid-term elections approach, the November 2, 2021 Virginia “bloodbath” just witnessed will be remembered as the “good times.”

Screenshot: ABC News, November 3, 2021

The electorate’s anger and palpable remorse for putting the Goofball in charge could result not only in the Democrats’ permanent loss of the House, but also the permanent loss of the Senate, with perhaps even a GOP super-majority in that chamber. And yes, a super-majority in the Senate would portend important things with regard to impeachments..., if you get your humble servant’s drift.

That being the case, the Democrat leadership has no doubt already realized that it has only one year left..., 52 weeks..., 365 days within which to complete the internal destruction of the nation. After that, their dreams of serial multi-trillion dollar spending bills, tyrannical vaccination edicts and “passports” and instant citizenship for any and all illegal aliens present here... will be dashed. No time to waste. Statehood for the District of Columbia. A central bank digital currency mandate. Thirteen members on the Supreme Court..., maybe even including Merrick Garland. Yikes.

Like a rabid, cornered wildcat, the Democrat congressional cabal will now turbocharge its ferocity and attack all who would try to stop it in the remaining brief time it has alive on this planet. Memo to faithful P&E readers: by way of but one example, do you think that Wuhan virus masking, vaccination mandates and “passports” are as bad as it could get? Think again.

How about intercepting your Social Security payments if you have not taken “the jab?” How about seizing your private 401(k) or IRA retirement accounts if you are not vaccinated and replacing them with a “digital currency” credit/debit card to track every penny you spend? How about lowering the “100-employee” vaccination mandate threshold to include companies or businesses with only ten or more employees? Or how about mandating that health insurance companies refuse to insure anyone who has not genuflected at the altar of Herr Fauci and received communion in the form of the Pfizer, Moderna or J&J experimental fluids?

Oh, yes..., things could get much worse in the next few months. And with the 2022 mid-term elections now less than a year away – when the likelihood of relegation of the Democrat Party to permanent minority status looms – they must act quickly. The Wretch from San Crapcisco will become even more unhinged and the pressure on Senators Manchin and Sinema to “toe the narrative line” will become significantly more intense.

Against this backdrop, your humble servant again suggests that a “few good Democrats” should consider undergoing a “Reagan epiphany” as discussed here, here and here. Your servant is not on a first-name basis with any of the “few good Democrats,” but if any faithful P&E readers are, they might consider touching base or even forwarding the post to them. The potential for a positive response, of course, is low. But as they say, nothing ventured, nothing gained. Moreover, the only way to ensure failure is to forego any attempt.

And remember: a rabid, cornered, wounded wildcat is a dangerous creature. Really dangerous.

Pixabay, Pexels, License