(Aug. 31, 2021) — On Thursday, Aug. 26, 2021, a suicide hyena detonated its explosive vest at the Abbey Gate of the Kabul Hamid Karzai International Airport. As the suicide bomber pink-misted himself to his illusory tryst with 72 virgins, he left behind many victims, including thirteen U.S. military members. Those heroes are remembered and honored here.

As the bodies of the slain were returned to the United States, the Person of Slumber – once again, for brevity, the “POS” – attended the transfer ceremony at Dover Air Force Base, taking time, of course, to check his watch for some unforgivable reason. Perhaps it was nap time or the ice cream wagon was soon to arrive.

The POS has not the foggiest idea of decorum or how to behave when soldiers that he has committed to death are killed..., and then returned here for burial. Then again, he has not the foggiest idea of just about anything these days, even needing “instructions” from his handlers and marionette-masters to handle a press conference. Soon, the POS will need to transition from laced shoes to ones secured by Velcro and finally, open-backed slippers.

At the Dover ceremony, several members of the families of the slain soldiers were in attendance. While some met with the POS, others refused. In particular, Jiannah Crayton, the pregnant wife of slain Marine Lance Corporal Rylee McCollum, 20 – now widowed as a result of the unfathomable incompetence of the POS – was the only member of the family willing to meet face-to-face with him. The other family members departed the room.

As reported by the “Democracy Dies in Darkness” Washington Post, the meeting did not go well. Specifically, as relayed by Townhall.com reporter Julio Rosas, the WaPo reported that when the POS met with Jiannah, he spent time relating to her the loss of his son, Beau, who had also been in the military and died of brain cancer in a hospital here in the United States. Memo to the POS: death by disease in a hospital – and surrounded by family – is not the same as avoidable, intentional death by a suicide bomber at the Kabul airport Abbey Gate. Not even close.

When Jiannah left the brief meeting, she told her sister-in-law, Roice McCollum, that she was disappointed. Roice was more pointed in her remarks, commenting on the POS: “You can’t f— up as bad as he did and say you’re sorry. This did not need to happen, and every life is on his hands.”

Roice’s assessment tracks exactly the memorable caveat delivered by the Second Usurper in Chief (the “SUC”) in 2020 when warning Democrats about nominating the POS to run for president: “Don’t underestimate Joe’s ability to f— things up.” Not only has the POS f—ed things up royally, as the comic “commander-in-chief” of our armed forces; he has precipitated the deaths of thirteen of his soldiers. He may not have triggered the hyena’s suicide vest, but his decisions set in motion a perfect storm of conditions leading to the detonation.

And none of this, of course, touches on the decisions made by him and/or his Pentagon Puppets to abandon the Bagram air base and forfeit to a wartime battlefield enemy billions of American taxpayer dollars’-worth of military weapons, vehicles, aircraft..., oh, yeah, and we now learn, military service dogs.

Some have commented that “[n]o one is going to charge anyone with treason.” Sadly, this is likely correct..., as long as the Democrats control the House, the Senate and the White House. But remember, the 2020 election was completely transparent and free of fraud. There will likely be zero accountability. Democrats prefer to bash and denigrate the United States rather than own up to their own errors and failings, particularly when it comes to facilitating with their votes the unmitigated disaster that the POS has engineered in Afghanistan. And for anyone who revels in the “end of the war,” get set for the beginning of the “hostage crisis” ... and a lot more 9/11’s.

However, when – not “if” – the electorate rediscovers a collective conscience, fulfills its moral obligations and returns control of the government into the hands of the GOP, perhaps the accountability which escapes the concern and attention of those now in power will return.

Would you not like to see the Democrats, along with their K-Street lobbyists and shysters, tie themselves into cerebral knots trying to explain why the actions of the POS, his Pentagon Puppets and his apparatchiks did not constitute treason or at minimum, “aid and comfort” to a wartime enemy? The claims that all of the military equipment – at the Kabul airport – was rendered useless before being abandoned have already started. And how will that “demilitarization” of weaponry be proven? And what about Bagram?

And, by the way, remember that there is presently no statute of limitations on indictments for treason. So, keep an eye out for legislation originating soon in the Congress to amend the law to shield the POS and those in his regime. Such legislation might provide, for example, that any indictment for treason must now be brought within one month of the date when the treason is alleged to have first occurred, or be forever barred. Yes, Virginia, the Democrats now controlling the Congress are that mendacious.

Memo to the electorate: Fix this disaster. Vote GOP. Always. Especially now.
