

The Goofball at 1600

THE "REAL COMMON ENEMY"

by Joseph DeMaio, ©2021

Source: White House Twitter account

(Aug. 16, 2021) — Yes, Virginia, you are now witnessing in Afghanistan what happens when a fatally compromised 2020 general election, – touted as the “most secure and transparent in history” – allows perhaps the most incompetent, incoherent and Supreme Goofball-in-Chief to become president. The chaotic protocols which pass for “leadership” in the White House are now on full display in the streets of Kabul and, indeed, in the Afghanistan presidential palace itself.

Meanwhile, displaying his “Scranton Kid” titanium backbone and dedication to protecting the lives of Americans still left in Kabul following his insane and precipitous decision to withdraw our forces by the end of this month..., he goes to Camp David. Adding to the Goofball’s disgraceful status as the AWOL “leader” [sic] of the free world, his press flak, Jen Psaki, also decides to “take the week off.” Even Jake Tapper at CNN (gasp!!) destroys Secretary of State Antony Blinken over the unfolding catastrophe.

As pointed out here, the time has long passed for the Goofball to resign. Bear in mind, with an almost surely constitutionally-ineligible vice-president next in line, for President Trump to call on the Goofball to resign is a big deal: the situation is that dire. And with the Wretch from San Crapcisco in charge of the House, no impeachment bill would see the light of day while she remains Speaker.

The Goofball's manifest ineptitude and deadly stupidity being unveiled hourly in the streets of Kabul are the same ones which, in due course, will come to the streets of, for example, McAllen, Texas...., oh...., wait...., those dangerous qualities have already appeared there.

Once again, memo to faithful P&E readers: if you know any Democrat member of the House of Representatives who (a) will not be running for re-election in 2022, and (b) retains even a trace of patriotism to put nation before party and change political affiliation now, please forward this post to them and plead with them to do so. You should also send them this post. Your humble servant has had many acquaintances note, unsurprisingly, that this proposal – persuading at least ten House Democrats to change party affiliation now in order to boot the Wretch from the Speaker's post before the 2022 election and at least initiate a bill of impeachment – is “delusional” and that it will “never happen.” It is true that it will not happen...., if it is never attempted at all.

And, by the way, does anyone have a better proposal to stop the unraveling of the Republic – before 2022 – that does not involve a military coup; violence in the streets; or immediate submission to Herr Anthony (“Gain of Function”) Fauci's admonitions that Americans should “put aside all of these issues of concern about liberties and personal liberties and realize we have a common enemy, and that common enemy is [the] virus....?” The arrogance of this “scientist” is exceeded only by his hubris, hypocrisy and unfamiliarity with the Constitution.

Today, a persuasive argument can be made that the Republic's overarching real common enemy is not the Wuhan virus, but instead is the Goofball at 1600.