

The Sea Was Angry

“GROW UP”

(Jun. 11, 2018) — Well, yet another ever-articulate Hollywood reptile coughs up an in-kind contribution to the re-elect Trump 2020 effort. Robert DeNiro yelps out “[expletive] Trump” at the “Tony Awards” in NYC... and the audience erupts with applause: [Vulgarity alert!]. So much for liberal and progressive civility.

The Left; the progressives; the forever-Hillarys... they all have one thing in common these days: a hatred for President Trump and the “normal” Americans who elected him. That hatred always simmers just below the surface in everything they do and everything they say.

On occasion, the hatred bursts out in angry invective..., because they have no other way of expressing themselves, like a four-year old throwing a tantrum because he/she has been denied his/her favorite toy. Memo to these losers, particularly the Hollywood hypocrites: heed the words of Barack Hussein Obama, Jr. ... elections have consequences. Grow up.

DeNiro’s angry linguistic burp brings to mind the classic Seinfeld “marine biologist” clip, where George Costanza pontificates on how he saved a whale: “The sea was angry that day, my friends... like an old man trying to send back soup in a deli...” One cannot help but see the similarities between senior citizen DeNiro and an angry old man trying to return a bowl of cold soup in a deli... where the proprietor of the deli now lives at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.
