TheObamaFile.com - a well organized Obama info website

While in my personal opinion, at this time, CountryFirst has the best site, with the smartest and most dedicated group of true patriots and workers in it, and is also a place to post messages and have a discussion, here is another site which is a good source of information about Obama, past and present ... TheObamaFile.com ... organized by information category of interest. Be sure to read his "Latest News" and "Read Me" buttons and other sidebar buttons in his site:
